LINEMAN APPRECIATION DAY

Electricity is an essential part of our lives. That is why we should be thankful for those who bring this vital resource directly to our homes and places of business.

Monday, April 11, is the day across the United States that many celebrate Lineman Appreciation Day. GreyStone sets aside Lineman Appreciation Day each year to applaud the expertise and knowledge these employees bring to their jobs every day.

Their skills are critical when outages occur and power restoration is required. GreyStone sends linemen to help after major storms impact other co-ops. During times of extreme weather events, the sight of a line truck driving down a road is a beacon of hope.

"The vital job our linemen take on every day is something that we at GreyStone are proud of. Their commitment to keeping the lights on is commendable, and so we are glad to celebrate Lineman Appreciation Day," says David Johnson, vice president of operations.

Members can help our linemen work safely by keeping an eye out for those working near roadways. Georgia's Move Over Law says motorists traveling in the lane adjacent to the shoulder must move over one lane, when possible, or reduce the speed of their motor vehicle when approaching a stationary utility or emergency vehicle flashing yellow, amber, white, red or blue lights. Emergency vehicles of all types have been struck while parked beside Georgia highways, even while their emergency lights were flashing.

So, make sure that if you see a lineman this month, you thank them for what they do.
