GREYSTONE WINS J.D. POWER AWARD

GreyStone Power ranks highest in customer satisfaction among cooperatives, according to the J.D. Power 2019 Electric Utility Residential Customer Satisfaction Study. The co-op received the J.D. Power Award from a company representative last month.

The Electric Utility Residential Customer Satisfaction Study, now in its 21st year, measures customer satisfaction with electric utility companies by examining six factors: power quality and reliability; price; billing and payment; corporate citizenship; communications; and customer service. The study is based on responses from thousands of online interviews conducted from July 2018 through May 2019 among residential customers of the 142 largest electric utility brands across the United States, which collectively represent more than 101 million households.

GreyStone ranked highest in three factors that contributed to the co-op's segment winning score, including billing and payment, corporate citizenship and communications.
