EMPLOYEES MAKE THE DIFFERENCE

GreyStone records were broken when five employees won GreyStone and Georgia EMC Life Saving Awards. Nabil Chabayta, Vicki Harshbarger, Casey Jackson, Eric Taylor and Travis Turner were honored at the Nov. 12 statewide Georgia EMC Annual Meeting in Savannah. Shomari Abdur-Raheem won two Gatekeeper awards for going above and beyond, the first employee ever to win two Gatekeeper awards in one year.

Chabayta was on his way to work when he noticed an elderly woman lying face down in the snow, her dog lying beside her. He alerted her family, got the woman inside, wrapped her in blankets and got her body temperature up.

Harshbarger saw a man sitting alone at a restaurant in distress with both hands around the front of his neck, unable to speak or breathe. Harshbarger told a waitress to call 911, leaned the gentleman forward and hit him on the back. The man's airway cleared and he began to breathe.

Jackson, Taylor and Turner were beginning line work when they saw a car run underneath a tractor trailer, severely injuring a gentleman. First on the scene, they worked with the fire chief and law enforcement to assist the man, likely saving his life.

Abdur-Raheem broke up a fight between a young woman and a man trying to steal her pocketbook, and alerted police, who arrested the man. He also happened upon an accident where a young woman was trapped in her vehicle after hitting a power pole. Abdur-Raheem talked with the woman, keeping her calm and inside the car until help came.
