LINEMAN APPRECIATION DAY

Monday, April 8, is the day across the United States that many celebrate Lineman Appreciation Day. GreyStone sets aside Lineman Appreciation Day on the second Monday of April each year to applaud the expertise and knowledge these employees bring to their jobs every day.

Linemen's skills are critical when outages occur and power restoration is required. In the event of widespread outages in Georgia or other states, GreyStone and neighboring electric co-ops can send linemen to assist with restoration work. During times of extreme weather events, seeing a bucket truck driving down your road can bring hope.

"Being a lineman requires lots of hard work in less than ideal weather situations. GreyStone is proud of their vital role in our community. They are committed to keeping our power going, no matter the time of day, and we are glad to celebrate Lineman Appreciation Day," says Vice President of Operations David Johnson.

Members can help our linemen work safely by watching out for those working near roadways. Georgia's Move Over Law says motorists traveling in the lane adjacent to the shoulder must move over one lane when possible or reduce the speed of their motor vehicle when approaching a stationary utility or emergency vehicle flashing yellow, amber, white, red or blue lights.

GreyStone Power believes in supporting the next generation of linemen. That's why GreyStone offers several internships and scholarships for students, including the new Lineman School Scholarship Program announced this year.

If you see a lineman this month, tell them thanks for all they do.
