Ahead of the Storm

With the summer storm season fast approaching, GreyStone is constantly working to keep power flowing and outage time minimized. The co-op has a 99.98 percent reliability rating.

One way to reduce outages is by maintaining a clear right-of-way (ROW). Have you ever wondered what happens when a tree limb touches a live power line? A fire and power outage can result. Though the scene can be captivating, danger lurks for onlookers if they get too close.

A well-maintained ROW ensures reliability of the system and helps to prevent this scenario from happening. ROW crews continually trim trees and brush alongside the co-op's 6,400 miles of power lines. Since vegetation doesn't stop growing, it is a never-ending job.

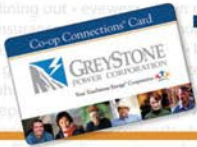

For your convenience, GreyStone has a dedicated app just for reporting outages. The GreyStone Outage Helper places the power to report an outage, receive live restoration times and view an outage map all in members' hands.

As your co-op continues to do everything possible to keep the lights on, GreyStone encourages members to plan ahead for severe weather. Create an emergency kit with a battery-powered radio, battery-powered clock, manual can opener, flashlights, candles, extra batteries, matches, a first-aid kit, a fire extinguisher, bottled water and non-perishable food. Remember that flashlights are safer to use than candles.
