GREYSTONE MARKETPLACE

This summer, you can keep cool in style by using energy-efficient products. The GreyStone Power Marketplace offers numerous options such as smart thermostats, smart bulbs and EV chargers, to name a few.

When you save energy, you're also saving money. On the Marketplace you can find FAQs, compatibility guides and blogs that explain how to research items that will work best for your home. Buying directly through the Marketplace, you gain access to special discounts and even instant rebates.

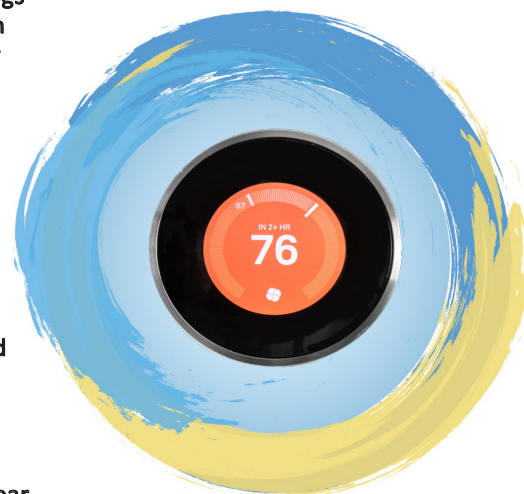

"We have thermostats that are discounted at $100. We have Level 2 electric vehicle chargers that are discounted by $250," says JoAnne Simmons, energy services member coordinator.

Depending on the time of year, GreyStone runs sales every now and then, so be sure to watch out for them.

In the average American household, about half of the annual energy expenditure is allocated to heating and cooling costs. Once a smart thermostat is installed and fine-tuned to your preferences, it learns your settings and automatically makes adjustments to reduce your expenses on heating and cooling.

Another great feature of the Marketplace is that products can be shipped directly to your home. Additionally, GreyStone also offers an easy return system, in case you aren't satisfied (some exclusions apply). Visit greystonepowermarketplace.com to learn more.

If you're interested in learning more about the Marketplace and picking up a few new energy-saving tips for the summer, be sure to check out episode 44 of the Power Line Podcast. Visit YouTube, Spotify, Apple Podcasts or www.greystonepower.com/powerlinepodcast to listen.

Annually, GreyStone employees serve under the initiative known as GreyStone Gives, where each employee volunteers up to 8 hours. Recently, they participated in packing lunches for children.

Did you know?

For the first half of 2024, GreyStone had a 99.98% reliability rating, and our operations and engineering division continues to work and plan to make sure you have power whenever you need it. One way we do this is by clearing our right-of-way of anything that could possibly cause an interruption in service to our members. So far in 2024, we have cleared nearly 350 miles of our lines.

GreyStone is powering economic development and supporting education. Through our youth opportunities like the Lineman School Scholarship Program, your co-op fosters a brighter tomorrow for individuals and the community. This is just another way we are making life better in the communities we serve.
