CAREERS IN ENERGY

GreyStone is committed to strengthening the community through workforce development. By investing in employee career growth and partnering with schools to create meaningful opportunities for students, GreyStone continues to make life better in the communities it serves.

A key partnership is the Energy Pathway program at the Paulding College and Career Academy (PCCA). A proud sponsor of the program, GreyStone recently donated $10,000 to fund quality instruction, state-of-the-art equipment and real-life experiences for PCCA students to ready them for jobs in the energy industry. This summer, three PCCA graduates completed internships and advanced into first-year apprenticeships at GreyStone. Since launching the Energy Pathway program in 2019 and the internship program in 2022, GreyStone has hired 12 apprentices through this initiative.

In addition to the PCCA, GreyStone also supports the Douglas County School System's College and Career Institute (CCI). With the co-op's annual donation, GreyStone helps CCI students pay for expenses such as scrubs, supplies and field trips. Funds also support achievement celebrations for students and teachers.

Each October, GreyStone observes "Careers in Energy Week," highlighting the many opportunities available in the energy field. "Establishing a workforce development program secures a future pipeline of employees for our organization and supports our guiding principle of community concern," HR Manager Rita Wilson says.
