EMC Security announces new mobile alert system

EMC Security has two options to suit members' emergency alert needs, including a new Active Alert Button, pictured at right.

The Active Alert Button, powered by Belle®, is a completely mobile alert system that "goes where you go," according to EMC Security.

"Using the AT&T 3G network, this button allows users the freedom to enjoy an active lifestyle with reassurance that help is just a touch of a button away," says Jennifer Kimble of EMC Security.

The button is water-resistant, has two-way voice and includes a battery that lasts up to 30 days on a single charge.

For more information or to order for $19.95 per month, call 770-963-0305.

The other emergency alert option is an at-home system, is also water-resistant, with two-way voice and a backup battery in a power failure, at only $16.95 per month.

EMC Alert products easily connect to a highly trained operator when help is needed.

"In addition to calling for emergency help, operators can call a family member, friend or neighbor on the personal call list. They can even send everyone on the call list a group text," says Kimble.
